

CHRISTIAN ACTION

BEZERRA DE MENEZES

My children, Jesus be with us.

Empires have succeeded each other in time, providing the vision of man, the spectacle of greatness and temporal power, as the ultimate manifestation of human intelligence. Names have become known throughout history and even today; with the brilliance of science and technology, they are icons studied and even worshipped by groups of admirers and nostalgists.

Undoubtedly, the laboratory of civilizations has been dynamizing the power of the spirit, which reincarnated in successive opportunities, unveils its potential for light. But every human epic, from ancient Mesopotamia to the intellectual brilliance of Enlightenment in France, while representing a floor of evolution and experience for humankind, cannot by itself respond to the glorious and life-giving yearnings of souls tired of Faust and illusions.

Violence is still a hallmark of peoples, nations, and individualities embodied on Earth.

No one can deny that human culture is appreciable, making up the patrimony that authorizes us as an orb before the infinite creation that is beginning to be scrutinized on the crust.

However, on the fringes of creatures' self-interested thoughts, the Gospel, out of holy and charitable love, is still waiting for those disillusioned and tired of all the passionate adventures of so many millennia.

Children, Jesus is an oasis of living fraternity and active, fulfilling charity. Countless groups remain indifferent and even opposed to the eternal message of good.

Nevertheless, exhausted of human lies and circumstantial vanities, we present ourselves here as soldiers of the age to come, in which the good news is the vitalizing sun of all salvationist, regenerating operations.

The movement of the new Christians has fraternity as its restoring and fruitful environment, sponsoring all the works of the Christian conscience in love taught by the experience of Jesus.

Spiritism, which has brought us together around a single banner, that of charity, is the great hope of the highest in these painful times of planetary transition. Bear witness to your trust in God and the kingdom that Christ Jesus has been establishing in the world for two thousand years.

Accept the good fight as a course of affective moral qualification, forget, children, convenience and warmly flee laziness, mental and psychological accommodation with the soiled principles of materialists.

We are reliving the divine steps of Christian history today, Jesus is back among us as long as the fruit of love radiates in pure fraternity. Our mission is sublime, and heaven entrusts its supreme blessings to all of us who understand ourselves to be immortal, governed by the law of love of the exalted Father, having as our moral duty that same love one another as I have loved you from the Unforgettable Rabbi of Galilee.

Our hearts intertwine in the same vibration of fervor and joy; let's praise God's mercy in our charitable diligence and demonstrate to an indifferent and suffering society that fraternity and love will give soul and content to everything that has been built on a foundation of selfishness and pride, vanity and pretension. Christian edification passes through our hands, feelings, in the moral renewal that is essential and urgent.

May the sweetness of Mary, our devoted Mother, envelop us all. These are the humble wishes of this lifelong servant of yours.

Grupo Espírita da Prece -Mário Campos (MG)